

An aerial photograph of a large baseball stadium, likely the Ballpark of the Blues in St. Louis, showing the field, seating, and surrounding urban area.

Imagine an abandoned factory riddled with broken windows and graffiti and overgrown with weeds. Now imagine it being given new life as a park or baseball field. The Missouri Brownfields Program cleans up hazardous materials, returns land to productive use, increases property values and creates jobs. To see if residential, industrial or commercial property in your neighborhood qualifies for state cleanup assistance, visit www.missouribrownfields.com.

The Missouri Department of Natural Resources – helping Missourians clean up one neighborhood at a time.

Missouri Department of Natural Resources
www.dnr.mo.gov

1-800-361-4827
1-800-334-6946
(State Parks)